

I am home during the day and since the law has been in effect, it has been unbelievable how peaceful and quiet it has been without many many phone call interruptions. When I visited my daughter and her family in Ohio, the phone call interruptions were frequent during the evening hours - so much so that no one answers the phone during that time of the day. This made me more aware of how much I appreciate Indiana's telephone privacy law.